Brooke Aitken
for Tsar Carpets

product Day.
standout For the company based in Melbourne, Australia, the Brooke Aitken Design founder debuts Passage, a wool and Tencel collection celebrating the passing of time and the shifting of light. tsarcarpets.com

Serena Dugan
for Erik Lindström

product Roma.
standout The textile-design studio owner is also a fine-art painter, and it's that work that informed her new series of colorful, graphic rugs inspired by Mexico City neighborhoods. eriklindstrom.com

Avery Thatcher
of Thatcher

product Ether.
standout A repeat evoking the interplay of light on water distinguishes the Portland, Oregon, designer's handmade cement tile that comes in four colorways including Pink-and-Burgundy. thatcherstudio.com

Colin King
for Beni Rugs

product Spoken Lines.
standout The lines of rationalist architecture are conveyed on nine handwoven Moroccan wool rugs by the stylist turned product designer, who had them photographed in Italy's Palazzo Daniele. benirugs.com

Karl Fournier and Olivier Marty for Bisazza

product Modulo 3.
standout The cofounders of Studio KO have crafted a line of neo-deco marble mosaics, the nine shapes (making up three geometric patterns) in an array of stones including yellow-tinged Giallo Verona. bisazza.com

Els Woldhek and Georgi Manassiev
for CC-Tapis

product Car Park 2.
standout The Odd Matter founders continue stretching the limits of processes and surfaces with their wool-silk rug shaped like a puddle and patterned with tire treads, shown in the Glitch Pink colorway. cc-tapis.com
