Modern travel gets a first-class upgrade with Ascent, a modular seating system by Brad Ascalon. Ash veneer treated to a clear stain or transparent lacquer clads the monolithic MDF-and-plywood base, while curvy ergonomic seats bring a touch of whimsy. The cold foam cushioning can be covered in custom textiles; Ascalon suggests calming pastels. The three-seat version spans 80 inches; the four-seater, 105. Both are 32½ inches high. Ascent incorporates power and USB charging and offers surfaces for drinks, books, laptops, or other belongings—perfect for hospitality and transportation settings. mitab.se, circle 291 ➤

"The idea was to rethink the notion of lobby and airport seating by establishing a completely new visual language" —Brad Ascalon

Il fumo si eleva in una colonna sottile e continua, quasi impercettibile, verso l'alto. La luce è soffusa, creando un'atmosfera calma e meditativa. Il legno della base ha una texture visibile e una tonalità calda.
